The prior art of record neither discloses nor teaches a display sheet having polymer dispersed liquid crystals and a method of making a display sheet having polymer dispersed liquid crystals comprising various elements and steps, more specifically, as the following:

a nonconductive field spreading layer having a transparent electrically conductive polymer dispersed sub-micron particles, and the nonconductive field spreading layer disposed between the state changing layer and the first conductor to provide a change of state in the state changing layer outside of areas between both conductors in response to a field applied between the first and second conductors which changes the state of the liquid crystals as claimed in claims 1 and 11; and coating a nonconductive field spreading layer having polymer dispersed sub-micron particles of a transparent electrically conductive polymer, and the nonconductive field spreading layer disposed between the state changing layer and the first conductor to provide a change of state in the state changing layer outside of areas between both conductors in response to a field applied between the first and second conductors which changes the state of the liquid crystals as claimed in claim 7.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
